Introduction

In 2025, PERSI is upgrading its pension administration system (Arrivos) to better handle the needs and capabilities of current and future technology. This upgrade requires employers to submit three interdependent data files containing information related to different aspects of employer reporting.

When employers submit Class and Status Change or Enrollment files for certain classes, they are required to select and verify the appropriate combination of position, statute subsection, and certification information for the reported employees. This replaces the need to submit paper or electronic certification forms separately.

This document provides a matrix of the expected selections employers will use for Class and Status Change or Enrollment submissions to PERSI.
